- Commissioner Update (8:10PM-8:20PM | 10mins.)
  - Commissioner updates were provided.
- Citizens Open Forum (8:20PM-8:30PM | 10mins.)
  - Susan Mortimer – Arlington resident. Ms. Mortimer is a long-time renter and feels that tenants aren't integrated into Arlington's community. As a self-proclaimed working class person with extensive experience with advocacy around the prison system, Ms. Mortimer doesn't see her viewpoint represented with Arlington's current implementation of restorative justice. Ms. Mortimer requests that a broader group of resident voices be part of the discussion around police involvement in the community. AHRC invited Ms. Mortimer to attend the planned 10/13 event on restorative justice.

- Laura Kiesel – Arlington resident. Ms. Kiesel and Ms. Mortimer are members of Tenants for a Livable Arlington (TLA) – a newly formed group comprised of mostly renters with some homeowners and small business owners. TLA is looking to forge partnerships with other town groups. Ms. Kiesel lives in an apartment building that is managed by the Housing Corp of Arlington (HCA). She shared several examples of code violations and poor responsiveness by management to tenant concerns. In addition to AHRC, Ms. Kiesel has spoken with the Disability Commission and would like to continue conversations with multiple groups within Arlington. Ms. Kiesel submitted an AHRC complaint against a member the Executive Director of the HCA.

Ms. Kiesel also raised the issue of class discrimination on the Arlington List email listserv. She discussed examples of the moderator censoring dissenting views and making pejorative statements about low-income and disabled communities. While the listserv is privately run, it is listed on the Town of Arlington website as a resource. Ms. Kiesel would like to see it removed from official town channels. Ms. Kiesel submitted an AHRC complaint against the moderator of the Arlington List.

The Commissioners discussed the upcoming Double Take story event with Ms. Mortimer and Ms. Kiesel. All agreed it would be beneficial to encourage low-income residents to tell their own stories_rather than representatives from other bodies like the HCA. Ms. Kiesel would like to be involved in the planning for that event. She also invited AHRC Commissioners to attend a TLA meeting.

- Mid Year Report out on Incidents: Commissioner Bauer has reviewed the incidents reported to AHRC in 2018. She drafted two documents to keep track of the incidents addressed by the AHRC: one for internal complaint tracking and one public facing document that redacts the personally identifiable information of involved parties. The Commission reviewed the documents, provided feedback, and discussed next steps.
- School Liaison Commissioner Grossman shared a draft document about AHRC School Liaisons. The goal is to foster ongoing communications and support between AHRC and the school administration.
